WOMEN HISSED AND GROANED AT WEDDING.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 4 .-- The wedding here to-day of Dr. Maurice W. Quinn, the Brocton dentist, and Miss Mary E. Donaher had sensational features. Dr. Quinn is the man whom it is alleged Miss Bertha Cordon tried to kill on May 16 because she had learned he intended to marry another girl. A crowd of 1,600 women confronted the wedding party to-day and hissed and grouned. Three detectives wre on guard at the church.

SWANS ARE BIRDS, NOT POULTRY.

It may be of interest to know that swans are not classified as poultry. A preeder in Port Townsend, Wash., brought up the question, some of his swans being assessed 3 cepts a pound under the live poultry provision of the tariff. It is held that swans come unler the head of "birds and land and water fowls," and are exempt.

Father and sons started for the lake and it is supposed that owing to the weight of the box Nespor concluded that better time could be made by crossing the water than by gong around.

Nobody saw them get into the boat, which was a gunning dinkey, but it is surmised that the box was placed in the stern and the father and boys getting in overweighted the craft and got into grouble after pushing off.

Nespor knew little about handling a boat and the theory announced is that the dinky got unmanageable and capsized. Another theory is that the boat being overweighted went down.

When father and boys failed to return home Mrs. Nespor became alarmed and a searching party was formed.
